PLEASE NOTE:

If there is not a NORTON NOTICE for March, it is because I have taken a two week vacation to Florida.

Since months of pleas for increasing the NOTICE Staff to spread the work load out a little has fallen on deaf ears, this month's issue is what is available to publish. And probably rightly so - Nortons are a hobby to 99% of the membership (or less) and it's no big deal if it all goes correctly, every time. The newsletter seems to have lost its purpose to inform and enlighten since most members are very knowledgeable of Norton's history, mechanics, and future.

You have the schedule for this next year of meetings, rides, and special events. Membership participation is where the action is, not reading the newsletter once a month and glancing at a centerfold Norton for a few seconds that took minimum of 6 (that's right, six) hours work to put together.

JANUARY MEETING held at Edinburgh Castle, San Francisco, January 14, 1982.

On a cold San Francisco night, it was a pleasure to see quite a few Nortons parked on the sidewalk outside the Edinburgh Castle for the first meeting of the year (it's worth it just for the Draught Guinness!).

The meeting began at approximately 8:45pm with about 36 members present.

Art Sirota mentioned that the John Player parts he had ordered from England had arrived, but unfortunately, they had been mailed to Compton near L.A. instead of La Honda(?). But he hoped that he would have more information for the next Branch meeting.

Steve Coburn informed the group that he had heard of a private collector's large assemblage of old British motorcycles in Volcano, a small town in the northern part of California and suggested a weekend Branch ride at a future date to see them.

Harvey Loucks gave his farewell ramblings in precedence to the elections for new officers of the Branch. He recieved a warm round of applause for the excellent job he had done over the past 12 months.

So now down to the serious stuff as the 'Magnificent 36' decided two person's fates for the next year as Officers. The positions of Secretary/Treasurer, Recording Secretary, and Ride Marshal only had one nomination each, so the real voting was left to Branch President and Vice President as unsettled business.

Harvey announced a tie between Gary Broeder and Tom Dabel for Vice President and in a show of hands in the "runoff", Tom received the majority.

The final act that Harvey had to perform as outgoing President was to say who his 'Heir to the Throne' would be. It was a close race between Art Sirota and Jan Barton with Art receiving the 'crown' (which closely resembled a Lucas headlight rim - could this be history in the making? Tim Coburn was a close third.

Next on the adjenda was the raffle which included the $25 Gift Certificate from Brooks' Cyclery and two original Norton Owners donated by Brooks' new owners, John McCoy and John Carter. Modesty forbids me saying who won the Gift Certificate, but Bert Rago and Richard Euler won the Manuals.

JANUARY RIDE

We left Sutter's Place with high overcast and went up Calaveras into low fog breaking through to a clear day on Felter road for an optimistic view of the ride ahead. Plummeting down Sierra Road and going through Alum Rock Park, Harvey again drew the short straw. Talk to him about it - these are the things war stories are made of.

Number two casualty of the day was Harry Bunting in a tricky stretch after the grand view, damaging pride, chrome, and tail light.

Those of us who made it to the Observatory atop Mt. Hamilton were treated to clear, mild weather and an easy-paced ride down the mines road with frequent stops to transfer fuel to overconfident Roadster owners' bikes.

Round Table of Livermore catered the awards banquet for the survivors and all made it home before the Winter dark set in.

PRESIDENTIAL PROFUNDITIES

First of all, I want to thank all of the members who voted for me in the election. I will do my best throughout the year to make our Branch a united, smooth running, trouble-free organization. As for those of you who didn't vote for me, I know who you are and I'll get even if it's the last thing I ever do.

This month's meeting at Rick's in Palo Alto should be fun and informative. Dick Rutter will return to our ranks and give us an interesting discourse on witty things to say after getting into a head-on collision, tips on how to lay perfectly still on your back for two months without going insane, and how to make certain that all your accidents happen while you're driving someone else's Norton.

I missed the last Branch ride, and I can hear everyone talking about what a stay-at-home the new President is, but the truth is that I was too busy conferring with God about weather conditions for future Branch rides. She said all of this year's rides would be sunny, but warned to watch out for bad roads (even God can't speed up a Cal Trans crew!). Tom Dabel gives his accounting of the ride in the JANUARY RIDE article.

Suggestions are being taken for where to hold this year's rally. I know of a real nice place called the Pinecrest Chalet and I'll bring brochures and information on it to this month's meeting.

John Fadilla, Tom Dabel and I have come up with an extraordinary ride schedule for the coming year. It will be found elsewhere in this issue, giving everyone plenty of time to plan ahead. There's a little something to please everyone. One of the exciting and different events is sure to be the overnight rafting trip down the American River! Ben Halstead will be our guide and we will be using his new rafts. No, you will not be allowed to actually take your Norton down the rapids on the raft! Ben, Ara, and I rode the rapids in one of his rafts earlier this year and found it almost as exciting as falling off a Moto Guzzi while coasting down Mt Diablo!

Please note that our February ride will meet at Brooks' Cyclery, not at Alice's as we had reported in the last issue of NN. We will ride down to Big Sur and lunch at the River Inn.

I would like to propose a change of meeting place in San Francisco. Edinburgh Castle is so stuffy and dingy, perhaps we could find a place with cleaner, cheerier facilities. If anyone has suggestions, I would like to talk about them next meeting.

Harvey Loucks has inadvertently come up with a suggestion to help bolster our Treasury. During our last two raffles, he has managed to purchase two matching tickets and then hold on to both of them without dropping one in the helmet with all the other raffle tickets. Now, if everybody followed Harvey's patriotic example, we wouldn't have to keep finding new items to raffle off each month!!

The John Player fiberglass spares from Sprint Manufacturing in England are now at my brother's house in L.A. (they went to L.A. by mistake because the manufacturer in England thought I lived in a suburb of L.A. called L.A. Honda!). If I get them in time, I'll bring them to the next meeting.

In addition to Classic Bike, another well put together English motorcycle magazine catering to vintage bikes has recently come out. It is called The Classic Motorcycle and is published every two months. I'll bring the latest issue to the next meeting if everyone promises not to spill beer, slobber or drool on it. For more information, contact Subscription Manager, IPC Business Press (S&D) Ltd., Oakfield House, Perrymount Road, Haywards Heath, Sussex RH16 3DH in, of course, ENGLAND. This month's issue has a beautiful colour photo of a 1939 works replica Norton 350.

Tom Dabel has volunteered to organize the overnighter to Volcano and it sounds like a real great trip. He says there is a vintage motorcycle museum with 80 bikes!

I know the Beer Bust isn't until June, but start thinking now about possibly volunteering to help make it a success.

We have the Best Norton Owners Club Branch. I hope this will be a memorable year.

Your humble servant,
Art Sirota

THE LITTLE NORTON THAT COULD by Art Sirota

One sunny day, Billy and Janey were riding down the road on a beautiful Norton 250 Jubilee. Billy smiled to himself as the green countryside seemed to race by.

"Look, Billy!" cried Janey, "See how the green countryside seems to race by!"

Billy clicked the Norton into fourth and felt the smooth purr of the engine beneath him.

"Go faster, Billy!" squealed Janey. "I want to get home before my ass gets sore!"

"OK" shouted Billy, "Hold on tight!"

But just then, they came to the bottom of a big, big hill. The smile on Janey's face seemed to fade as Billy downshifted into third, second, and finally, first gear. Little droplets of sweat had condensed on the Norton's headlight as it came to a halt 100 yards from the top.

"What's wrong with this old thing?" demanded Janey.

"No problem, Sweets," answered Billy. "We'll just have to try 'er again."

So, Billy turned the Norton around and tried to build up more speed.

"Wheel!" yelled Janey, "this is fun! We better make it to the top this time or you ain't gettin' any tonight!"

But halfway up the hill, the Norton started to slow down. Billy downshifted again and used his clutch like an expert. The Norton strained and pulled as hard as it could, but 50 yards from the top, they found themselves stopped once again.

"Boo Hoo!" cried Janey with real tears. "This is embarrassing! What if one of my friends came by right now and saw us? I'd just die!"

"Don't worry, Janey. I've got an idea!" And Billy wheeled the Norton around and came to a stop at the bottom of the big, big hill. "Get off for a second," ordered Billy.

But as soon as Janey was off the Norton, Billy did a wheelie and raced up the hill. As he flew past the top of the big, big hill in fourth gear, Billy smiled to himself as the green countryside seemed to race by.

Moral: Don't carry excess baggage.
